JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1911.

ANOTHER REPORT OF TREATY MADE; AGAIN DENIED

SAYS UNITED STATES ISSUED
ULTIMATUM TO MEXICO RE-LATIVE TO JAP TREATY.

DIAZ SEEKING TO ESCAPE

Reported That He Has Lined Troops
Along the Avenue of Escape
To the Coast.

New York, April 10.—That the United States Government forward a six day ultimatum to Mexico to allow its secret treaty with Japan, a photograph of which was furnished the state department by Ambassador Wilson and Mexico meekly accepted the ultimatum is the assertion of the New York Sun today in a special dispatch from Mexico City. The article calls attention to the fact that within a week the American warships were withdrawn from the Mexican coast.

Denies Report.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 10.—President Taft today through Senator Burton, made an emphatic denial of the sensational story connecting the mobilization troops in Texas with the alleged secret treaty between Mexico and Japan. Senator Burton who also had talked with the President, said President Taft was surprised and indignant at the publication of the story. The President told Sen. Burton the reason for the mobilization was the danger of widespread revolution and anarchy in Mexico.

More Raids.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—Advices from Torreon say that Aguirre Calles is threatened by 500 insurgents.

Four hundred rebels are said to be advancing on Camacho in Northern Zacatecas.

An insurrection is also reported on the Perote mines in Sonora, owned by Americans. The horrid scene and supplies have been taken, it is said, and many mine workers imprisoned into the rebel's service.

The insurgents have abandoned Tepic, in Durango, to reinforce rebel forces, battling with the Federalists in the vicinity of Volcan.

Is Diaz To Leave?

Washington, April 10.—Confidential reports in official circles from U. S. army officers in Mexico today indicate President Diaz has laid careful plans to escape the country. Soldiers have been detailed so as to form a safe avenue for Diaz to the Pacific coast, the dispatches say.

Feet Famine.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Agua Prieta, Mexico, April 10.—Conditions are rapidly shaping themselves in Chihuahua and Sonora, Mexico, for a crisis more serious than the loss of life in battle. The Americans in these two states declare that unless the rebellion ended with peace overtures very soon, all northern Mexico will experience a disastrous famine.

IMPORTANT EVENTS IN CONGRESS TODAY

Senator Young of Iowa Spoke on Commission Form of Government—
Cut in House Pay Bill.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 10.—In the senate today Senator Young of Iowa spoke on the commission form of government. Little was done in the house.

Congressman Mann had the names of the minority committee men ready, but they will not be announced until tomorrow.

Names Sent In.

The President today sent to the senate the nomination of Walter L. Fisher of Chicago to be secretary of the Interior. Also Charles S. Welch to be postmaster of Eau Claire, Wis.

Washington Surprised.

Washington gasped today when the report of Rep. Palmer of Pennsylvania, which led to a saving of $182,000 in salaries on the House pay roll was made public. Record-breaking sinecures were revealed. Among them was that of a 13-year-old girl drawing $1,200 annually as "clerk to the doorkeeper."

The senate adjourned at 2:20 until Thursday. Senator Raynor did not deliver his speech concerning the conditions in Mexico.

SUICIDE MYSTERY IN CAPITOL CITY

Norman Curtis, Instructor in Railway
Engineering, Shot Himself in Head,
Cause of Death Unknown.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 10.—Norman P. Curtis, instructor in railway engineering at the University of Wisconsin, committed suicide shortly after noon today by shooting himself in the head.

The tragedy took place on the University drive near the shores of Lake Mendota. The body was found an hour later by Dr. Joseph Donohue, city health commissioner, who was a schoolmate of Curtis. Curtis is married. No reason is known for the act. He was a graduate of the University in 1901. He is a brother of Arthur Curtis, foot ball coach.

Chicago, April 10.—Cornelius McAuliffe, aged 61, managing editor of the Chicago Record-Herald, and one of the best known news paper men in the middle west died here today following a long illness.

CAMMORISTS' TRIAL WILL NOT ADJOURN DURING HOLY WEEK

Judge Danchi Refused Today To Adjourn Trial Stating Doubt As To Religious Motives of Prisoners.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Viterbo, Italy, April 10.—Frankly telling the Cammorista prisoners he seriously doubted they were actuated by any religious motives, Judge Danchi today refused to adjourn their trial for murder over Holy Week.

Although the Cammorista trial will probably drag on for months there is already every indication that it will end in farcical verdicts, court experts who have followed the proceedings have expressed the opinion that there will not be more than three convictions and these will be for short terms. In this event the guilty ones will be immediately released as the imprisonment they underwent awaiting trial would undoubtedly amount to more than the terms of their sentence.

The opinion prevails in many minds that aside from Judge Danchi none of those connected with the prosecution has the requisite nerve to deal with the revengeful Cammorists.

The real basis, however, for the belief that the prisoners will escape likely is the influence either the Cammorists themselves or their friends have in governmental affairs.

Many of those in high places are believed to be connected with the Cammorists.

A unique situation promises to arise in the probable adjournment of the trial on Tuesday until after Easter. Nearly all of the prisoners profess to be devout Communists of the church and they are clamoring for an opportunity to observe Holy week. They have petitioned for an adjournment to "prepare themselves for Easter communion."

That is the only one of the prisoners who scoffs at religion.

NO DECISIONS IN ANTI-TRUST CASES BY SUPREME COURT

Large Crowd Awaited In Vain For Decisions In Important Case By United States Supreme Court Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 10.—A record breaking crowd of legal men and others jammed the United States Supreme court room at ten this morning in expectation that the court would render its decisions in the big anti-trust cases. The crowds were sadly disappointed as the court failed to act on the cases today.

Reargument was ordered by the Supreme Court today to determine the constitutionality of the two cent railway rate law of Missouri. No reasons were given for restoring the case to the docket.

BRAKEMAN CRUSHED BENEATH THE CARS

Employee of St. Paul Road Killed at Owatonna, Minn., One Hour After Told He Would Be Discharged.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

La Crosse, April 10.—Just one hour after he had been notified he would be discharged for misconduct when he reached Minneapolis, Frank Doering, aged 25, of Austin, Minn., a brakeman on the St. Paul railroad, was caught between the couplers and killed at Owatonna, Minn., yesterday. The body was taken to Austin today.

JUDGE'S ELECTION EASILY SECURED

A. J. Vinje of Superior Spent $32 to Be Re-elected Justice of the Superior Court.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, April 10.—Judge A. J. Vinje of Superior, who was elected a member of the state supreme court in the recent judicial election, is the champion bargain beneficiary on record in filling a statement of campaign expenses with the secretary of state. The judge declared he spent $32. His office extends for ten years at a large salary. Judge Chester A. Fowler of Fond du Lac filed a similar statement showing he spent $17.41 to be re-elected to the 18th judicial circuit. His term is for six years at $1,500 annually.

DAVIDSON HAS NOT MADE HIS DECISION

Ex-Governor States He Has Not Received Enough Information on Appointment To Decide.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

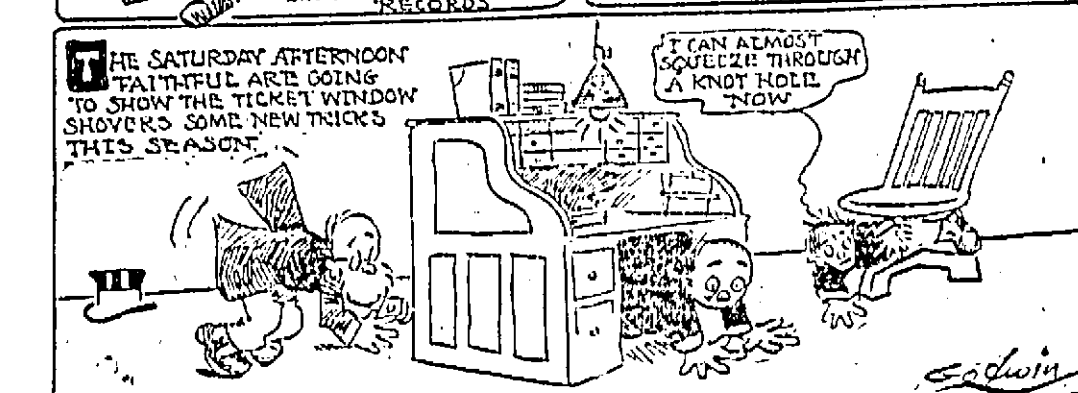

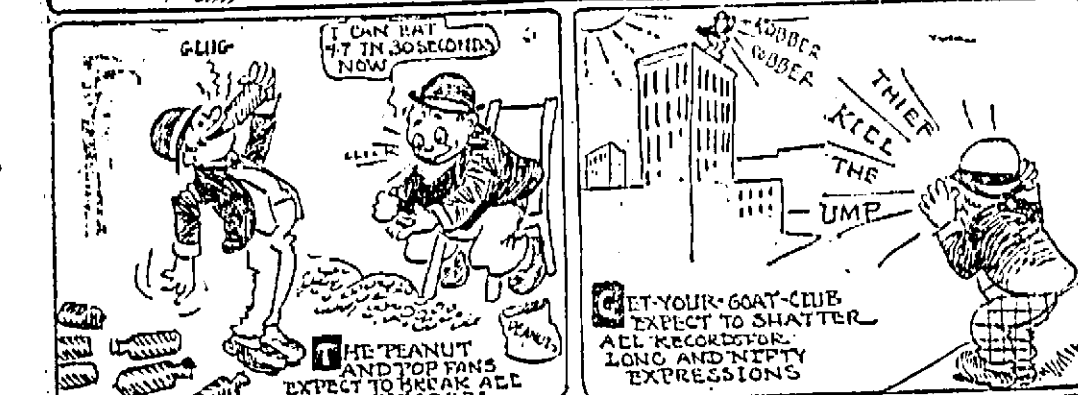

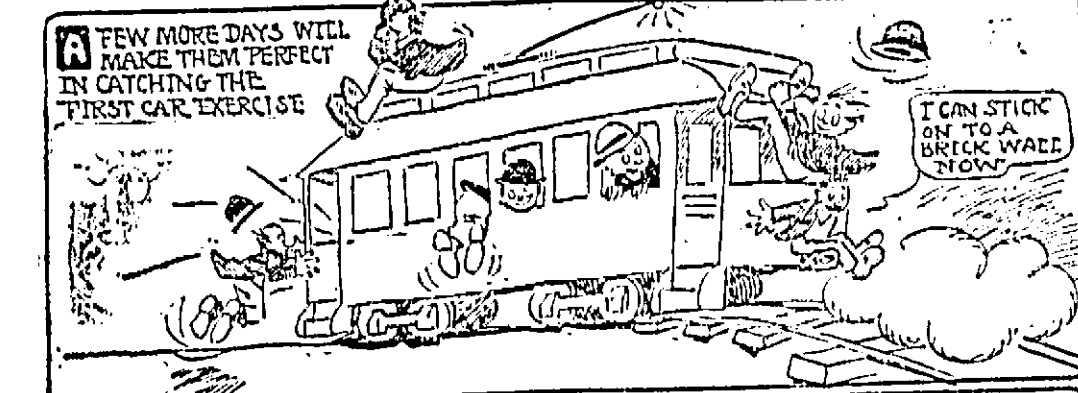

Madison, April 10.—Ex-Governor James O. Davidson, in an interview here today, declared he is not certain he will accept the appointment to a South American republic offered by President Taft. He said the country was assigned to was not desirable. He was a graduate of the University in 1901. He is a brother of Arthur Curtis, foot ball coach.

PROJECT STARTED TO RECLAIM BASS CREEK DISTRICT

Petition Goes to Judge Grimm Asking
Permission to Form Bass Creek
Drainage District.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

With the idea of reclaiming about 4,100 acres of the marshy land in the neighborhood of Bass Creek in the estimated cost of from five to six dollars an acre, a petition was filed in the circuit court Saturday morning, asking permission to start proceedings for the organization of a drainage district to be known as the Bass Creek Drainage District.

The territory named in the petition is in the vicinity of Hanover and comprises land in the towns of Center, Spring Valley and Plymouth.

The date set for the next hearing by Judge Grimm was April 19, and although nothing can be told of the degree of success which will attend the project, the petition was signed by a majority of the owners whose lands will be affected and everything points to a successful outcome of the plan.

J. E. Egan heads the petition and is acting in their behalf. The petitioners are represented by the law firm of Whitehead and Matheson.

The center of the district will be on Bass Creek near the village of Hanover and comprises a low, marshy territory formed among the streams and tributaries of the above creek. This has always been a source of loss to the owners of land in this portion and it is thought that by the use of proper methods the value of the land can be greatly enhanced as well as the health of the community. Much of the land is unutilized and a great deal more is made unfit by the spring floods.

The process which must be gone through before the work is actually started is rather complex. The petition having been filed the judge will now take it under advisement and pass upon it by decision of the drainage project. When it is deemed an advisable project by the court, a commission will be appointed by him consisting of three men whose duty it will be to obtain a surveyor and make a preliminary survey of the land involved. Following this, a preliminary report will be made by these men and if it meets the requirements, they will be permitted to go ahead and make a detailed survey of the district and work will then start.

At present there is feeling for and against the proposition and an endeavor is being made to stop the proceedings by those who do not feel that the territory will be benefited. However it is felt that in the end it will be carried to a successful close and that the good derived from the reclamation of such a large tract of otherwise useless land, will more than repay those who are interested in seeing it done.

PERSONAL REASON FOR PASSING BILL

Frank J. Weber, Assemblyman From Milwaukee, Seeks Passage of Bill
Abolishing "Third Degree."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, April 10.—Frank J. Weber, the socialist assemblyman from Milwaukee, has a reason for seeking the passage of his bill in the legislature to abolish the "third degree" in police methods. Weber declared he was forced into confessing a crime he did not commit at La Crosse fifteen years ago. The prosecuting attorney at La Crosse at that time was no other than assemblyman J. E. McConnell, declared Weber smilingly.

DATE OF ELECTION SET IN PORTUGAL

Government Has Decided, After Many Postponements to Hold National Elections, May 14.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madrid, April 10.—After four successive postponements, the Portuguese provisional government has decided to hold national elections on May 14 as the date for the national election. This undoubtedly means that the ministry thinks it has fixed matters as to its future in the republic.

Had the ministry thought its own continuation in office, should there be a republic, giving the monarchists or any rival republican faction a majority or even a large minority, there will certainly be trouble, for there is much dissatisfaction with the present regime and it can only hold its own by an appearance of overwhelming strength. It has the country completely under military domination at present and is using the troops aggressively for repressive purposes instead of merely for ornament as during the earlier days of the republic.

FRACTIONAL GAINS IN LEADING ISSUES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, April 10.—Northern Pacific and St. Paul made gains of a half point at the opening of the market today. Other leading issues show fractional gains but at the end of fifteen minutes an averaging tendency developed, prices shading slightly.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

La Crosse, April 10.—Funeral services were held today for James Vincent, aged eighty-seven, the well known millionaire lumberman who died of pneumonia. Falling to become wealthy as a "49" in the California gold rush, Vincent returned to La Crosse and engaged in the lumber business. This was successful.

FRENCH CATHOLICS STAND WITH POPE

Have Started Appeal to Protest against Celebration of "Spolliation of Pontifical States" by Italy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 10.—The Catholics of France have launched an appeal urging church people to join in the protest against Italy celebrating its 50th anniversary since "the spoliation of the pontifical states." This protest of indignation, according to those back of it, is to show to the Pope that though his temporal kingdom has been lessened his spiritual influence is more than ever enlarged.

This is a summary of results of the fire that wiped out the Yoshiwara district yesterday. Many of the courtesan inmates lost their lives.

STATE WITNESS IN LORIMER CASE DEAD

Michael S. Link, Indicted by Grand Jury in Lorimer Case and Turned State's Evidence, Found Dead.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—Michael S. Link, member of the Illinois legislature, who was indicted by the Chicago grand jury for perjury and turned state's evidence in the investigation of the election of Senator Lorimer, was found dead in a bath tub in his home at Mitchell, Ill., today.

Death, according to the family physician, was caused by apoplexy. He said a blood vessel burst in the brain. A week ago Link, when celebrating the twentieth anniversary of his wedding, told his guests he was subject to heart trouble and expected to die suddenly.

BUSIEST WEEK OF THE SESSION

OF WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE BEGAN TODAY WITH MANY
MEASURES TO BE CON-SIDERED.

ROOSEVELT THERE SATURDAY

It Is Thought Former President May Have Something To Say On Candidacy of La Follette in 1912.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, April 10.—This promises to be one of the busiest and biggest weeks of the present session of the Wisconsin legislature. In addition to the consideration of a dozen important economic, social and political questions, the legislature will entertain Col. Roosevelt and listen to what he has to say regarding matters of public moment. From the time of the senator's arrival at seven o'clock next Saturday morning until his departure at 1:30 p. m., the contributing editor will be shown a "bull's" good time.

Roosevelt is not a stranger to Madison. A score of years ago he spent some weeks in the state historical library here, gathering data for his book "The Winning of the West." Later when President he spent a day here, addressing the legislature, discussed progressive legislation with Senator La Follette, who was then governor, and swapped anecdotal stories with John Burroughs, who accompanied him on an outing to Yellowstone park.

From a political point of view Col. Roosevelt's visit is big with possibilities. An ardent admirer of La Follette, he may touch upon something regarding the probable candidacy of the latter for the republican nomination for president next year. He will be surrounded by an atmosphere which will make it easy for him to put forth some nice remarks about the Wisconsin senator. Presidential aspirants in other states will have their ears on the ground at twelve o'clock Madison time, to hear what the mighty hunter and hero of San Juan Hill has to remark about presidential chances.

The colonel will be broadcasted by Gov. McFarland at the executive mansion. At ten o'clock he will greet the members of the legislature in the assembly chamber and will probably make a short address. At eleven o'clock the colonel will deliver a public address at the university symposium and shortly after twelve will lunch with a club of statesmen and university men at Lathrop hall at the university. Promptly at one-thirty, the contributing editor will board his special train and journey eastward by way of Chicago. His stop at Madison will be the only important one on his trip across the continent.

Women from all parts of the state are expected to Oxfords with ribbon laces or with two or three buttons will be worn for walking. Either will be correct. Oxfords look especially well with linen suits. All leathers, $2.50, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00.

TOP-NOTCHER AMONG SHORT-STOPS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

George McDrige, Captain of Washington American League Baseball Team.

Milwaukee, Wis.—In the old Third ward of this city, where there were many corner lots, George McDrige, captain of the Washington baseball team and conceded to be the cleverest shortstop in the business, learned to play ball. Slaveshipers now adorn those lots, but ball fans recall McDrige's start and his rise from a "kid" player to a star.

McDrige is what might be termed a "dandy." After playing in the semi-pro organizations here he drifted to St. Joe in the Western league, where he made good. His big league career was started in St. Louis in 1905, and from then on his rise to the top has been gradual. In 1909 he topped the American league shortstops and now he is at the top, for three years having led such shortstops as Hobby Wallace, Terry Turner and Huns Wagner in the number of chances accepted.

McDrige winters in Milwaukee and during the off season takes his easy. But George is a careful liver, doesn't care for the "white light" and is therefore always in shape. His great sport in winter is bowling.

Pongee Silk.
Pongee silk is the undyed silk of silkworms fed on the leaves of the scrub oak chiefly, though other trees are used in some portions of the pongee district. The silk is produced almost exclusively in Shantung province and portions of North China immediately adjacent.

Heartless Landlord.
"I used to walk the floor worrying about how I was going to pay my landlord," said Mr. Tulluck. "I hope you have quit all that," replied the landlord. "I had to. The landlord said that if I didn't stop worrying about the floor he'd raise the rent."

Inventions Discount Talent.
"I wasn't no good as a musician in the old fiddlin' days," says Uncle Henry Butterworth, "but when it comes to playin' a phonograph I'm just as good a hand as anybody."—Kansas City Times.

Depending, of Course.
Reynard—Do you think it is right for the stock of a corporation to be watered? Ashley—Yes, if it's live stock.

C. Q. D.
Wanted—A young gentleman on the point of marrying a lovely girl is most desirous of meeting with a man of experience who will take the responsibility of dissuading him from this dangerous step.—Harper's Weekly.

Electric Kissing.
There seems to be another new thing in electricity. The little man-euro girl in one of the recent plays says to her admirer: "Yes, you did kiss me! You kissed me seven times—four times direct and three times alternating."

Example of Thrift.
"Yes," boasted an over-dressed individual, "I make my clothes last. This hat is an example of my thrift. Bought it three years ago, had it blocked twice, and exchanged it once for a new one at a cafe."

His Amusements.
"When I go to a theater," said the cynical boarder, "I prefer a seat in the first balcony. If the play is of no account I can amuse myself by studying and comparing the shapes of the men's heads down below."

Not to Be Thought Of.
"My dear," he feebly said, after they had permitted her to go to him after the operation, "I shall not recover. They think I will, but they are mistaken. I feel it. I am going to die." "No, no, John!" she cried. "Don't say that! You mustn't die! I haven't a thing that is fit to wear to a funeral."—Judge.

Unpleasant Suggestion.
"I've called my new song 'Falling Down.' Then, my boy, it will never be popular. It is too strongly suggestive of household bills and commercial notes."

Explained at Last.
O'Keefe—"Is a strange how slow an Arthie explorer travels with how gold tower-ride the pole an' how fast it covers the ground comin' from it. O'Shea—Nawthin' strange about it, bedad! Shure, don't the law iv gravitation take us that it's harder to go up thin to come down?"

His Part.
"Has Perry ever done anything to add to the gaiety of nations?" "Yes. He tries to speak French, German and Italian when he is in those countries."—Harper's Bazar.

Taking on Weight.
Though the earth is adding 100 tons of meteoric dust and cosmic matter to itself every day, it will take about one billion years for it to accumulate a uniform layer one inch thick.

Misunderstood.
Gerald—"I tell you, I got hot under the collar." Geraldine—"What do you do for an overheated collar?"

Scrutinize that winter hat of yours the next time you don't it; then if the inspection isn't pleasing leave the rest to us. We're ready with an assemblage of styles that's complete. The new hats in all the correct shapes, soft and stiff styles, including the famous Longley Hats, $1 to $3.

FURNISHINGS

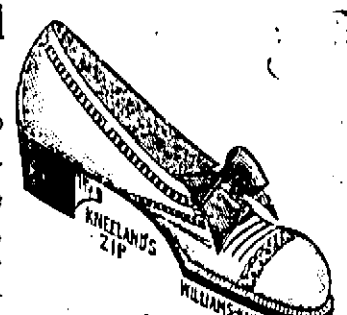

"More than I ever had to choose from before," a customer told us the other day. He was quite right, it's our largest display of furnishings and our displays always have been large. New neckwear for the Eastern season, 25c to $1.00. Huge assortments of shirts $1.50 to $2.00, with our usually large $1.00 line.

Ladies' Shoes and Men's Shoes and Oxfords

Whenever you sigh and say "I just can't find shoe comfort," you're in a mood to appreciate our shoe service. Shoes that are comfortable and stylish for dress or street wear, $3.00 to $6.00.

Tans are to be very popular so we're ready with an extensive display of them. But black shoes are represented in full assortments. All styles, lasts, leathers in our showing $2.50 to $5.50. Most models $3.50 and $4.00.

—SUITS - COATS - MILLINERY—

Women's Distinctive Spring Suits $15, $18 to $35

Many very recent arrivals have so augmented our suit collection that we can now present for your choice almost an endless array of models in different styles and shades. Fabrics include all the popular new spring suitings as well as serges, basket weaves and homespun. A prominent feature is our unusually low prices placed on these garments. New leather shades, tans, and blues prevail, as well as cream serges and white.

Coats For Spring—Exclusive Styles $8.50, $10 to $20

The smartest of our outer wraps are developed on strictly mannish lines and reveal only partially the outlines of the figure.

Light tone coatings in many new fabrics are shown, including basket weaves, novelty worsteds, black and white check cloths, mottled worsteds, cream serges and white; beautiful creations in black satin are shown at $12.50 up.

New interpretations of the raglan and peasant sleeves reveal many clever innovations.

Skavlem Club Piano Has a Tried and Tested Value

There is nothing of the "mushroom" character to the 200 pianos we are distributing through the big Skavlem Piano club. There are over 60 thousand of these pianos in American homes.

As we have mentioned before—they have been very largely sold in Janesville and the surrounding counties. There are hundreds of them today in homes in this immediate section. In Cincinnati alone, it is estimated there are over 2 thousand. In Chicago and vicinity one of the country's prominent piano dealers has sold an average of 6 hundred a year for over 10 years—and so on and so on. We could go on and mention dozens of dealers and dozens of communities that have figured in the distribution of this great piano—60 thousand of them—and each and all with equal success.

"Your family has long wanted a piano. You can now have an instrument of such excellent value as the Club Piano at so low a price it seems a pity you should delay longer."

But the important thing to people living in Janesville and throughout the state of Wisconsin is, through the many economies that the Skavlem piano club affords THEY SAVE NEARLY ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS—or, to be exact, NINETY-SEVEN DOLLARS AND A HALF—all of which has been made possible by making such a gigantic purchase, adopting the most economical methods and willingness to make a smaller profit than we usually make in order to QUICKLY FILL UP THE CLUB AND CLOSE THE DEAL.

If you have the slightest idea of purchasing a piano this year, you are false to your own interests if you don't AT ONCE INVESTIGATE THIS EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY.

For the convenience of people who cannot come in during the day the store will be open every evening until 10 o'clock.

This is the whole proposition. Read this:

The Skavlem Piano Club Plan Told In a Few Brief Sentences.

1. The Club is to be composed of 200 members.
2. One-half of the memberships have been taken.
3. The value of the Skavlem Club piano is $375.
4. The price to Skavlem Club members is $277.50.
5. The terms are $5.00 cash when you join, then $1.25 per week.
6. The piano will be delivered when you join, or later, as you wish.
7. The weekly payments of $1.25 begin when the piano is delivered.
8. Every instrument is guaranteed without reserve—for ten years. There are no "ifs" or "ands" in the guarantee; just a straight guarantee, as strong as we know how to make it in writing.
9. If, after 30 days' trial, the piano is not satisfactory, we will give you your money back.
10. If the piano is satisfactory after 30 days' use, the club member has eleven more months in which to satisfy himself as to the character of the piano. If it does not then prove to be everything that he expects, he has the privilege of exchanging it without one penny's loss for any other instrument of equal or greater value that we sell—and we sell over thirty different representative makes.
11. If a club member dies during the life of his contract we will immediately send a receipt in full to his family for the instrument.
12. A beautiful stool to match the piano and latest style scarf included without extra cost.
13. The piano will be tuned twice without charge.

CARELESS BOYS ARE ENDANGERING LIFE

Third Ward Youths Will Be Dealt With Severely If They Continue Practice of Shooting in City.

Small boys living in the Third Ward, who are becoming careless in the use of firearms will be dealt with severely if they do not desist, according to the statement made by Chief of Police George Appleby this morning. Some reckless youths with a small rifle, who were shooting in the neighborhood of Clark street, did not watch where their shots went, and a stray bullet went through the window of a residence on that street. The practice is extremely dangerous on account of the likelihood of the stray shots finding a human target and is in violation of the laws. Shooting within the city limits is strictly prohibited and severe penalty is provided for those who are unduly of the menace to other people's lives.

SLEEPERS WARNED NOT TO BEG BY CHIEF APPLEBY

Men Lodged in Lockup Saturday Night Given Warning By Chief of Police Sunday Morning.

Thirty lockers in the city lockup Saturday night were occupied in the corridor of the jail before being turned out Sunday morning, and given a certain lecture by Chief of Police Appleby. The chief told them numerous complaints were being received of men begging a meal and warned them if any more came in he would arrest the ones against whom complaints were made and put them in the county jail. The men were advised to get out of town and not beg until they reached the country, where they could probably secure something to eat by doing a little work. Eleven men slept in the city hall quarters Sunday night.

On account of Passion week the Woman's club of the Congregational church has postponed its meeting for Tuesday until April 25. The program for that day will be announced later.

The Jewish children of the house next door, playmates of the baronet's son and daughter from childhood, are willing to unite the two houses by marriage. Only the fathers stand in the way. Fathers, as the young singer has it, "have had their innings."

The play makes the baronet, Sir John Cotswold, stand out unyielding in his hatred for Jews and for Sir Isaac in particular, and this hatred is intensified by the prospect of the marriage which he uncompromisingly refused to sanction. The Jew is represented at first as unwilling, because of his race pride, and then, ready to sacrifice his feelings for the sake of the happiness of his children. "The House Next Door" will be seen at the Myers Theatre, Monday evening, April 17.

The remains will be brought here from Sloan, Iowa, and the funeral will be held at half past two Wednesday afternoon from the Oak Hill chapel, Rev. T. D. Williams officiating.

William T. Machen. William T. Machen passed away yesterday afternoon at one o'clock at his late residence on Terrace street, after a prolonged illness. The deceased was fifty-five years of age and had been a resident of this city for the past ten years, during which time he had been employed as a fireman on the C. M. & St. P. railroad, on a run between Janesville and Davis Junction. The deceased had a host of friends here who will be grieved to learn of his death.

He leaves a widow and three brothers and one sister: George N. Machen, of Savannah, Ill., president of the Commercial bank of that city; Calvin Machen of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Emma P. Bowen of Savannah, Ill., and a half brother, Capt. A. H. Hushey of Sterling, Ill. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Martin Connors. The remains of the late Martin Connors arrived here this afternoon at half past three from Milwaukee. They were taken to St. Patrick's church where the funeral services were conducted by Dean Kelly. Interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were: E. J. Schmiedley, Joseph Deunling, Frank Bell, James O'Rourke, Thomas McKuen and Thomas Mullen.

Henry Smith. The remains of the late Henry S. Smith arrived here from Chicago yesterday afternoon at one o'clock by special train. There was a large delegation of relatives and railroad men present and the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. Rev. J. C. Hazen conducted the services at the grave. Conductors Cannon, Stuart, Shinnick, Parker Crowley and Ring of Chicago, acted as pall bearers.

FIRE DECIDED THE LICENSE QUESTION

Destruction of Photographic Tent on West Milwaukee Street Put End to Controversy Over Payment of Fee.

Fire Saturday morning, which destroyed the photographic tent placed on a vacant lot near the Y. M. C. A. building, solved a problem for City Attorney Maxfield regarding the right of the owners to operate a studio there without a license. The city ordinance provide that transient merchants in the city must pay a license fee of ten dollars per day and this the owners of the tent refused to do.

The place was ordered closed by the Chief of Police Appleby, but after consulting with an attorney, the owners continued their business. The chief then turned the matter over to the city attorney who was investigating it.

In some unknown manner and before fire Saturday morning the tent caught fire and could be seen in or a telephone call went to the fire station, the tent had gone up in smoke. It is said that G. P. Dodge of Madison and a Mr. Peterson of this city were the owners.

CONFRONTED WITH DIFFICULT TASK

Rev. E. J. McCarthy, Formerly of Janesville, Translated Service From Latin When English Mass Book Was Lacking.

Standing at the altar ready to read Palm Sunday Gospel to the Stoughton parish, Rev. E. J. McCarthy, a former Janesville resident now of St. Francis, Milwaukee, ordinary faculty, who came to the place every second Sunday, yesterday found himself confronted with a serious difficulty.

Finding no English mass book he picked up his huge Latin mass-book and began translating from Latin to English the long story of Christ's triumphant entrance into Jerusalem, which would fill about a quarter of a column of any newspaper. So thoroughly and smoothly was Rev. McCarthy's translation that his act was detected by only one parishioner, a former four years student of Latin.

Cost Him Nothing: John Baker, elected constable in the Third Ward at the recent elections, paid out nothing for campaign expenses, according to his statement filed with City Clerk Roy Cummings. Baker had no opposition in his election.

Scarlet Fever: There are ten cases of scarlet fever and one very light case of diphtheria in the city at the present time, according to Health Officer E. B. Richards. None of the scarlet fever cases are of a serious nature.

Met This Noon: The directors of the Industrial and Commercial club held their Monday meeting this noon and discussed plans for a banquet of all members of the club in the near future.

Notices Are Sent: County Clerk Lee is sending out notices to the members of the county board in order to ascertain their wishes in regard to the holding of the spring meeting. The date that is suggested is April 18, and if a majority of the members are in favor of a meeting at this time it will be called.

Expense Account: County Superintendent O. D. Antkled filed his expense account for the recent election in the office of the registrar of deeds today. The total amount spent was $24.00.

Realty Transfer: J. L. Fisher on Saturday closed the deal whereby he purchased the old Tennant property on Milwaukee avenue. He will remodel the building into flats. H. S. Lovejoy has purchased the lot at the corner of Court and Sinclair street and it is reported will erect a home there this summer. A. L. Wilcox has purchased the property at 21 Sinclair street from Mrs. Will Kimball.

PAINTERS' STRIKE STILL UNSETTLED

No Signs of Agreement Are Yet Evincing Between Striking Employes and Contractors.

Things seem to be at a standstill in the painters strike which was called in this city on April 1. A lack of any efforts on the part of the contractors to get the men to come back and a seeming determination on the part of the strikers to force their point make it hard to say what the outcome will be.

Several of the firms in the city who have lost men through the walkout, have finished the work on hand at the time of the strike and are taking on more jobs right along. Their attitude is the same as before on the matter of the wage scale, they holding that it is an unreasonable demand on the part of the painters to ask that the same wage be paid to all, in the variety of men hired makes it impossible to pay all the men alike.

A great deal more decided stand is taken by the employers on the question of the closed shop and this is another point which was made in the demands of the strikers. It is also reported that in several of the shops non-union men are being employed and that the work is being carried on. Another rumor has it that one of the organizers of the union is expected in the city this evening and that a meeting of the painters will be held tonight, at which time the organization will be better perfected and action taken on the closed shop proposition.

SAM COOLEY AND "DEMON RUM" BAD COMBINATION

"Old Offender" Fell On Face While Intoxicated But Fought Officer Who Arrested Him.

Sam Cooley, veteran of the sporting life and known as "old offender" in police court circles, was again haled into court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. On his plea of guilty was sentenced to ten days in jail in default of payment of a fine of $5 and costs of $6. Sam was on a "bender" Sunday and in going through the postoffice alley, fell, striking on his face. Someone seeing him lying there telephoned to the police and Officer Panding went to get the man. Meanwhile Sam had been helped to his feet and started off down the alley. The officer, and very little difficulty in overtaking Cooley, as the man's progress was rather erratic. Cooley, however, was far from being a "dead" one and fought desperately with the policeman and a bystander, who was called to aid Panding in making the arrest. A badly swollen upper lip and scratches about his face testified to the severity of Cooley's fall.

FORMER RESIDENT BROKE THE RECORD

Edward D. Sablin, Formerly Advertising Manager of the Gazette, Proposes To Girl and Is Wedded In Half Hour.

Friends of Edward D. Sablin, formerly connected with the Gazette as advertising manager, are surprised at the report of his recent marriage in Cleveland, Ohio, on March 22nd last. Mr. Sablin broke all records proposing to a young lady, securing the license and having the nuptial knot tied within a half hour. Sablin is an advertising agent in Cleveland and has been making frequent calls upon his wife for a year past, but nothing has been said as to a wedding until Mr. Sablin met Miss Edith Sleeter, now 15. He invited her to walk with him to the Court house and on the way proposed, was accepted and less than thirty minutes later was married.

AMERICAN SLAIN LEADING REBELS

Mexican Battle Results in Death of Gen. Williams.

DISPATCHES A PEACE ENVOY

Limanour Orders Private Car Sent to Convey Madero's Father to Son's Camp—Insurrections in New Mexico.

Calexico, Cal., April 10.—Gen. Stanley Williams, the American acting as a Mexican rebel leader, was killed and his force of Americans dispersed in a battle with federal troops south of Mexicali.

The battle occurred in a barley field on the Little ranch five miles from Mexicali. Large puffs of smoke were visible, indicating that the federal troops had held artillery in action.

Sends a Peace Envoy.

Han Antonio, Tex., April 10.—A telegram was received here by Francisco Madero, Sr., stating that a private car has been sent from the City of Mexico by Minister Limanour to carry Senor Madero to Chihuahua to confer with his son with reference to bringing about peace negotiations.

What may have been nothing more than a comedy of errors prevented a start from El Paso by automobile to the rebel camp. Senor Madero received three telegrams from Limanour stating that Colonel Tamborel, commander of the Juarez garrison, had been ordered to deliver the passports to anyone who should call with Limanour's card. This card was given to Senor Madero in New York by the finance minister.

Colonel Tamborel did not receive the passports from Senor Limanour and stated so repeatedly over the telephone. The Madero party, thinking something wrong, determined to return to this city, where they have arrived. Meanwhile Minister Limanour was notified of the situation and in reply stated that the passports would be in the hands of a messenger on the special car, which, it is believed, will be here today.

Madero Starts North.

Chihuahua, Mex., April 10.—News from the interior confirms previous dispatches that Madero's forces in great numbers are moving to a point northwest of here. Madero and his staff occupy a train. Several other trains, including about fifty coaches, carry the camp equipment. The objective point apparently is the town of Madera, the end of the Mexico Northwestern railroad. One report is that Madero is determined to throw his strength not only against Casas Grandes, but against Juarez, with a view possibly of securing belligerence recognition from the United States.

Flee from Casas Grandes.

El Paso, Tex., April 10.—The Mexican inhabitants of Casas Grandes and vicinity south of Juarez are fleeing since the soldiers left there for Chihuahua and Juarez. The residents fear that the insurrectos will take their property. Sundrops has broken out in the region and is causing considerable fear, too.

News from Culiacan, Sinaloa, is that reinforcements reached Lieutenant Colonel Morelos at Badiraguato, where the insurrectos had him cooped up, and that the insurrectos retired, leaving the federalists in possession of the town.

The insurrectos have raided the town of Minaca near Culiacan and carried off many horses and other supplies.

Insurrectos Acquire Deadly Shell.

Douglas, Ariz., April 10.—That the Mexican insurrectos are not relaxing their activities because of peace talks is indicated by the purchase of a biplane and the acquisition of a new and deadly shell, which has been invented by one Juan Garcia of Fronteras, Sonora, a member of the revolutionary junta.

Much interest is manifested here in Garcia's shell. It is made in compartments and contains a compound of cyanide of potassium, ammonium and sulphuric acid in such proportions that in explosion it emits a most poisonous gas, dealing death to all forms of life within a radius of 500 feet. It would be particularly destructive to life if dropped from an aeroplane, and the purchase of the biplane is believed to have been made for this purpose. Garcia, who alone knows the secret formula of the invention, is being guarded closely.

It became known that Alberto Cuatrecasas has resigned as governor of Sonora to keep from signing the death warrants of three innocent men whom Gen. Torres, the federal commander, wanted shot, but wished to place the responsibility for the execution on the civil government.

DAVIDSON TO BE DIPLOMAT

President Taft to Appoint Former Governor of Wisconsin as Minister to Bogota.

Washington, April 10.—James O. Davidson, recently governor of Wisconsin, is soon to be appointed by President Taft to a high diplomatic position in South America, probably that of United States minister at Bogota, United States of Colombia. This is a post that pays a salary of $10,000 a year. Whether Minister Northcutt, now at Bogota, will retire from the diplomatic service or be sent to another post is not known at present.

Loss Suffered: Cancels Naturalization. Olympia, Wash., April 10.—Disgraced because he lost a justice court suit in Seattle against the Northern Pacific railroad, E. Cotterill, who was born in England, had his naturalization papers canceled and he left Olympia.

ROOSEVELT IS CONTENT

COLONEL SAYS HE IS NOT ASPIRANT FOR ANY OFFICE.

Declares No Man Ever Had a Better Run for His Money—Explains Purpose of Trip.

Spokane, Wash., April 10.—Theodore Roosevelt made his first public declaration regarding his possible candidacy for the presidency at a luncheon given in his honor by the Commercial club.

"I am not an aspirant for anything because I have had everything," he said. "No other man alive has had—don't know whether I ought to use this simile in the presence of the chaplain, but I am going to take chances—no other man alive has had such a good run for his money."

The colonel declared he was making his western tour for no other purpose, than that which he already has assigned—to thank the people who elected him to the presidency. Had he never come to the west, he said, he never would have raised his regiment and never have become president.

"It is the service done, not the title of the place held, that counts," he said. "And you won't, any of you, have to puzzle as to my motives if you will accept my statements at their face value. You have not got anything I want, except your respect and good will; and all I desire is, so far as the chance arises where I am able to do so, to help you in any movement for the good of our common country."

MURDER VERDICT REVERSED

Pardoned Woman Wins Civil Suit for $3,000 Insurance on Husband Who Was Convicted of Slaying.

Lincoln, Neb., April 10.—Mrs. Lena M. Little, convicted of the murder of her husband, Harvey Little, and later pardoned out of the penitentiary, won a suit in the supreme court against the Modern Woodmen of America on a $3,000 policy of insurance on the life of her husband. The district court of Lancaster county decided that she did not kill her husband and was entitled to the insurance money. The supreme court affirms that decision.

LIKE TO WALK IN PUDDLES

A Grown-Up Man Tries to Ascribe a Reason for This Fanciful Boy.

"It may not be a matter of grave moment," said a grown-up man, "but I would rather like to know why small boys like to walk in mud puddles. I don't refer now to the boy in rubber boots; his motives in wading in puddles and in deeper water I can understand. He is proud of his water-proof boots and he likes to surfboard himself with the delightful consciousness and proof that they are water-proof; he likes to brave and pass unscathed the perils of the deep water-ways of the gutters after a heavy rain; though with his first boots anyway he is likely to overdo this a little, to keep on trying to see how deep he can go till at last he steps into a place a little deeper than the rest and gets his boots filled.

"Still, I can understand the boy and his rubber boots, but I don't quite see through his fancy for walking or stepping in puddles generally when he has leather shoes on. Maybe here too it is because he likes to take risks, or perhaps it is because of his innate defiance of rule and convention.

"A bunch of small boys will one after another try jumping over a puddle to see if they can clear it, and then sooner or later one is sure to come down within the edge of the water. But that doesn't disturb him; on the contrary he rather enjoys that experience, and then you may see the bunch wind up by all running or walking through the water. Why do they do this, getting their shoes wet and muddy and getting them wet causing them to wear out the sooner, to say nothing of causing their mothers care and worry not only over shoes but stockings? But all boys like to splash through mud puddles, and for that matter so do some older people, too.

"I like myself when I have on rubber boots to walk right ahead regardless of the pools of water on the sidewalk. In fact I am likely to step in them deliberately if they are not too deep, so that I may get the water over my rubbers to wet my feet. I like to splash ahead unhampered and really in doing this simple little free action I find enjoyment. And I guess it is a sense of this sort that makes the boy find a pleasure in scampering or stamping or walking through mud puddles; he likes to take the risk and see how much water he can get into without getting his feet wet, but the thing he likes best about it is its defiant unfettered freedom."

COMPELS FOSTER FATHER TO SHOOT

Girl Gives Pistol to Man Orders Him to Fire.

BOTH IN DYING CONDITION

Young Woman at Bedside of Parent Persuades Him to Attempt Her Life That They Might Die Together.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—In one of the most amazing and remarkable tragedies in criminal annals, Miss Eva Hayes, twenty years of age, stood at the bedside of her foster father in a ward at the County hospital and thrusting a loaded revolver into his hands, compelled him to shoot her, so that she might go to Heaven with him.

With a Spartan-like indifference, bordering on fanaticism, the girl noted the effect of each shot and ordered the man to keep shooting until she finally dropped to the floor.

Both Fatally Shot.

As a result of the shooting the culminating feature in the most remarkable series of tragedies in the history of Los Angeles, S. L. Dana, fifty-five years of age, the foster father, is dying from wounds self-inflicted, after shooting his foster daughter, and the hospital authorities state that there is little or no chance for the recovery of the girl.

The shooting of Miss Hayes was the second of the week in Dana's lurid history. On April 1 he shot and killed his six-year-old daughter, Leodania. He believed at the time of that shooting that he was about to die from injuries inflicted by George Koerner, with whom he was fighting a pistol duel. Dana had had trouble with his wife and who had separated from him. In passing Dana's tailor shop Mrs. George Koerner, a neighbor, remarked to her husband: "There goes the man who beats his wife."

Kills His Own Daughter.

Dana heard the remark and an altercation followed. Both men drew revolvers, Dana firing first. His shots went wild but Koerner's two bullets took effect. As Dana fell he recognized his six-year-old daughter, Leodania, and believing he was about to die, he said: "I am going to take you with me," and shot and instantly killed the little girl.

Practically the one friend to call upon Dana in the hospital was Miss Hayes, who poses as his foster daughter, but who is believed to have been bound to him by the strongest ties of love. She visited him almost every day and during their conversations urged him to carry out his promise to take her with him when he died.

Exhibits Spirit of Spartan.

Saturday morning she bought a revolver and visited Dana again at the County hospital. They talked together for some time, the girl arguing with the stricken man and pointing out to him that he was growing weaker and that the time had arrived for him to fulfill his promise to take her with him. Dana expressed anxiety to be with his little daughter, who he had killed, and who he believed to be lonely without him. At this critical moment the girl forested the revolver into his hands and stood up for execution. Dana fired once, the bullet inflicting a painful but not a fatal injury, striking the girl in the head. With the spirit of a Spartan, she remarked: "Shoot again, you didn't hurt me."

The Hayes girl then crossed her hands on her breast and Dana, moving to a better position, fired two shots rapidly. The second shot broke the girl's wrist, the third struck her in the breast. After the girl fell to the floor Dana turned the revolver upon himself, inflicting a throat wound. A fifth shot went wild.

Following the shooting, both Dana and the Hayes girl expressed no remorse and asked to be allowed to die.

He Is Getting the Rescue Habit.

Elise Radford, the young man who rescued a small boy skater who had fallen through the ice in a deep pond, has again appeared in the role of rescuer. Thirteen-year-old Margaret Weston was dared to cross the thin ice to a little island that poked its head up through the ice about one hundred feet from shore. Margaret wouldn't take a dare, and in a few minutes she had crawled stealthily over to the island, and then started back. Almost at the first step the ice began to crackle under her, she lost her courage and retreated to the island, where she sat down to wait.

Radford saw her predicament, and, putting on a pair of hip boots, went to the rescue. He waded in and made his way through the broken ice and water to the island; hoisting the maid to his shoulder, he waded back again, waist deep, and carried her to dry land.—Philadelphia Times.

What Is the Charm?

This advertisement appeared in a Swiss paper: "Hired in a most picturesque site, a distance of a hundred meters from a police station. A physician is attached to the establishment, in which an abundantly supplied American bar presents such attractions that very few customers leave it of their own free will."

Concrete Houses.

It is possible to build a house today, and such houses have already been constructed, which shall be entirely of reinforced concrete, except for such minor items as doors and window frames. This, says the Concrete Age, makes a house which is entirely unburnable from within and practically unburnable from without.

DRUMMER OF ARCOLA

LITTLE FRENCH LAD PUTS AUSTRIAN ARMY TO FLIGHT.

Napoleon's Great Career Built Upon Heroic Episode Which Illustrates Extraordinary Military Value of Spirit-Stirring Drum.

There stands in the French town of Cadenet, his native place, a monument to the memory of "The Little Drummer of Arcola." Andre Estienne, the hero of one of the most romantic episodes in French history. It was an episode that illustrated the extraordinary military value, so often attested by the world's greatest generals, of what Othello called the "spirit-stirring drum." It may be said, curiously enough, that Napoleon Bonaparte's great career was built upon a drum, for the battle of Arcola was won by the beating of Estienne's drum, and the Corsican himself always dated his confidence in his own fortune from this battle, won in 1796. The circumstances were these:

Bonaparte, hemmed in with a small army at Verona, between two greatly superior forces, sallied out at night, made a forced march, and with 14,000 men fell upon the rear of 50,000 Austrians. The battle lasted seventy-two hours. On the second day of the fighting the Austrians obtained such a position that they completely and murderously swept the bridge of Arcola, which the French had gained, and which they must hold if they expected to win the battle.

It was an unlooked-for movement. No officer was near, but Andre Estienne, the little drummer, was there. He went to his sergeant and told him that he should cross the bridge with his drum, and beat it on the other side.

"But," protested the sergeant, "before you place one foot upon the bridge you will be killed. No man on earth could live off that bridge. However, can you swim?"

"I can," said the drummer.

"Then swim across with your drum." "Impossible!" returned Estienne. "Should the drum become water-soaked, I could not beat it on the other side."

But the sergeant was equal to this difficulty. Being himself a fine swimmer, he plunged into the water, bade Andre mount upon his shoulders and hold his drum clear of the water. In this way the two crossed the river, Andre beating his drum lustily all the way. Once on the other side, he pounded it in a way to well-nigh wake the dead. The Austrians who were massed near were nearly all raw recruits. Hearing what they took to be the drums of an advancing force of French, and remembering the terrible French onslaught of the day before, they fled. This left the bridge clear, and the French began to pour across. Andre was joined by other drummers. The Austrian flight became a rout. The French swept on, with Andre Estienne, still drumming at their head. Soon the whole Austrian force was retreating, utterly beaten.

Years later Estienne's heroic act was celebrated by being represented in stone on the front of the Pantheon at Paris. The funeral of the little drummer of Arcola was attended by a great concourse of French officers and soldiers.

How To Surely Get Rid Of Rheumatism

Phenomenal Results Of Positive Antidote To Uric Acid.

The first dose or two of the positive antidote found for uric acid, gives immediate relief in all forms of rheumatism, joint lumbago and kidney trouble, and quickly brings on a cure. Every man and woman who has already tried it knows that this antidote is true. This antidote, called the "Pain-Expeller," has already cured over 1,000 cases of rheumatism. An illustration of a cured man, aged 62, of a 14-year case of rheumatism in 2 days. It cured Miss Kennedy, the well-known ladies' tailor of Pittsboro, N.C., of an excruciating case inside of a week. And many other cases have proven that it is the world's cure for rheumatism. The "Pain-Expeller" cures rheumatism, backache, free from all dangerous drugs, stimulants or narcotics, free from opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine, ether, chloroform, or alcohol, and is guaranteed to be the United States Government.

Mexico City.—The cabinet appointments of President Diaz are being received with varying degrees of hope among the classes of Mexico. The appointment of Senor de la Barra to succeed Enrique Creel as minister of foreign affairs is one of the most hopeful signs. General Muriel G. Cosio, as minister of war and marine, while accepted as an able man, is not entirely popular. The reappointment of Jose Yves Limanour as minister of finance is a source of some disquieting statements. He is recognized as the strongest man in the republic of Mexico today, barring none, and is the real man behind President Diaz. His regime has never been overly popular among the masses, although he is recognized as a constructive and able head of the department among those who have to deal with him.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

THIS is the season of housecleaning.

Too self-evident to mention, you think? Quite so, but I mentioned it only to introduce a suggestion. As you take your broom in hand to move upon the foe, will you not make up your mind that the season of housecleaning this year, is to be also a season of housecleaning and simplification?

The desire to accumulate simply for the sake of accumulation is one of the oldest and most unreasoning of human passions. The child who hoards the red candy box and the half dozen seashells, beautiful once as they sparkled in their proper setting, the wet sea sand, but hopelessly ugly now, and the hundred and one little treasures quite as valueless and useless and quite as precious; the miser who gleams over his hidden gold; and the housewife who solemnly takes out and cleans and puts back each year a lot of trinkets that she does not really want and will never use, are all slaves of this same primordial obsession—the mania for accumulation.

To discriminate, to know what to keep and what to throw away, to have the wisdom and courage to simplify one's existence by getting rid of all the truck one is keeping simply because one does not quite like to throw it away—that is the mark of the woman who has developed somewhat beyond the primordial.

There are so many departments of the average household where simplification could be attempted with good results.

For instance, the writing desk. Ten to one it is overflowing with letters long ago read and answered and kept, not for any sentimental or literary worth, but merely "because it seems too bad to throw them right away." Go through that desk with a relentless hand, tying up any letters that you have any real reason for keeping, and consigning the others to the fire, and see if you do not approve the result.

And by the way, let me offer a suggestion in regard to the souvenir cards which—if you are not a collector or do not happen to know any one who is—will seem a problem to you because it seems too bad to burn them up. Don't do that. Miss go to a dear old lady who delights in forwarding them to the missionaries who greatly appreciate this new kind of picture cards. Doubtless your Church Missionary Society will be glad of yours.

Then there is the medicine chest, with dozens of bottles in it that contain little trickles of medicine that you will never use again. There's a little of that fever medicine the doctor gave you when you had the grippe, and a few drops of the stuff he gave the baby for measles, and another bottle half full of some dark colored liquid whose reason for being there you have quite forgotten. You pretend to think that perhaps you will use some of these again but really you know that you never will.

And then there are the closets and wardrobes and chests where your unused clothes are stored. Your elimination here surely ought to be most rigid, because you owe it to two people—to yourself, whose life these unnecessary things are cluttering, and to somebody else who has need of them.

There are those coats that didn't quite fit you and that you have hoarded for two years, hoping some day to get up the courage to wear them. You never will. You know it now. And they might mean so much to that somebody else.

There's that brown serge dress that you laid aside because you never liked and solved your conscience by pretending that some day you will have it made over. You know that you never will and somebody's hands are outstretched waiting to receive it from you.

The responsibility of keeping these things—that by right of eminent domain belong to the somebody else who needs them—truly I do not see how anyone dare assume it.

These are just a few general suggestions. The specific simplifications which your household needs, only you can know. But if you bravely carry out this policy through the whole house I promise that you shall be more satisfied with your spring cleaning than you have ever been before.

The Katherine Kip Editorial

THE GOSPEL OF BROTHERLY LOVE.

The gospel of brotherly love is contained in the desire to make others think and love, in the desire to arouse the minds and hearts of others to their opportunities and to show them the better expression of their lives.

To make others think and love, to turn the attention of others to a consideration of their fellows, to make them see that life is not a selfish personal possession but something to be used for the benefit of others. That is making men think.

To make them think is to make them love in the spirit of brotherly affection which eliminates the chances of abusing the relationship. To bring men closer together in the natural bond that holds society and to make individuals feel that their personal acts have a direct bearing on the happiness of others. Not alone of their own generation but of untold generations to come.

The men and women of today are the unit of all the generations that have gone before. In our nature we combine all the attributes of our numerous ancestors from the days of Adam to the present time. Most of these attributes are good, a very few are bad and it is our task to make the good overcome the bad, and every time we hold others to learn the lesson of brotherly love we are aiding men to learn the gospel of love and we are showing them how to think.

The traits and tendencies we have inherited from others we pass on to others modified, it is true, but still legacies. Our duty is to make the number of good characteristics as large as possible to the end that evil may be swallowed up.

Every good thought grows out of an opportunity for a bad one. Every good deed grows out of the chance for an evil one. Every generous impulse destroys an ungenerous one. Every good desire grows out of an evil one, and so the process of elimination goes on.

We are a long way from perfect, but despite all that some folks say to the contrary we are a better people in many ways than were our ancestors. For one thing we are more tolerant. We are more liberal, we are more sympathetic and we think more accurately than any other people who have ever lived. But we are nothing in comparison to the race of men and women who are sometime to occupy our places in the world and we must do our share in the work of developing this great people.

The fundamental law is, of course, love and thoughtfulness. Upon that a pretty good structure can be erected—one that will stand the onslaughts of time and the assaults of every foe.

To Women Readers

Much interest has been displayed in the present Gazette contest for women readers and the prizes offered by the Gazette for the best menu, of twenty-one meals, for one week. So many have applied for the Gazette scrapbook that a fresh supply has been prepared and are ready for all who may desire them.

Contestants and others who desire to use some special recipe in the contest or would like to see it in print, can send the same to the "Feature Editor" and it will be printed. If some special recipe is desired also write the "Feature Editor" and it will be supplied if possible.

All contestants should remember that the menus should be composed of the ordinary meals for a family, not elaborate affairs. The desire is to obtain a series of menus and recipes that will be useful to every housewife.

The four prizes to be awarded are: First prize—$50.00 in gold. Second prize—$25.00 in gold. Third prize—$10.00. Fourth prize—$5.00.

Any question relative to the contest should be addressed "Feature Editor, Gazette."

The KITCHEN CABINET

IT IS a time to be cloudy and sad. When our Mother Nature laughs at us, and the deep blue heavens look glad, and gladness breathes from the blossoming ground?

A Few Salads.

A salad is one of the most appetizing of dishes and one should never consider the preparation of a salad as too much trouble.

A salad should be simple and may be prepared in a very few moments. One of these dishes is:

Strawberry Salad.

Take the heart leaves of lettuce, heap a few ripe strawberries in each, dust with powdered sugar. On each portion place a teaspoonful of mayonnaise and a piece of lemon.

Grape Fruit and Cherry Salad.

Cut the grape fruit through the center, removing the sections and freeing them of the white fiber. Marinate in a little French dressing of three tablespoonfuls of oil, one of vinegar and salt and pepper to taste. Place some of the grape fruit on heart leaves of head lettuce, on these nests add enough cherries to make an attractive salad.

Spanish Salad.

Cut in halves several hard cooked eggs, and place them at intervals on the lettuce in a salad bowl or plate. Between the eggs lay stuffed olives and halves of tomatoes. Cover each egg with mayonnaise, and serve each guest with each of the ingredients of the salad.

Fish Filets.

Cut the large filets into three smaller ones, dip in flour, season with salt and red pepper. Place a nest in the meat and on this place strips of salt pork and sliced onion, then lay on the filets. On each place a bit of pork and onion, and cover closely and bake until well done. Serve with a white sauce in which chopped parsley and sour pickle is added.

Grape Juice Soup.

Cook half a cupful of tapioca until soft, with a pint of water. Add three pieces of stick cinnamon. Strain and add one cupful of grape juice. Sweeten to taste and serve hot.

Nellie Maxwell.

Fruit Cake.

One cup of butter, 1 of brown sugar, 1/2 pint of molasses, 2 eggs, cup of corn milk, teaspoon of soda, a pound of flour, pound of currants, 1 1/2 pounds of raisins after seeds are removed, flavor to taste. This recipe has been thoroughly tested.

Boiled Rice With Raisins.

Wash rice and put in salted water. Pick over and wash a few raisins and put in, boil slow till it is well cooked. Serve with milk and sugar.

Pancake Pudding.

Melt 1/2 cup flour in a basin, add 1/2 teaspoon of salt, 2 well-beaten eggs, 1/2 pint of milk and one tablespoon of melted butter. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a small frying pan. When very hot pour in the mixture and keep moving the pan till it has set for the under side. Turn it quickly with a broad knife or turner, cook 1 minute over the fire, then put the pan into a hot oven for 10 minutes. It will puff up. Put a spoonful of preserves in the center, roll up and serve on a hot dish.

Mock Indian Pudding.

Cut stale bread in half-inch slices and remove the crusts. Butter the bread on both sides, pile the slices together and cut into cubes. To each cup of cubes, well pressed down, use one pint milk with one-half cup molasses and half a teaspoon of salt. Bake in a buttered pudding dish in very moderate oven from two to three hours. Fine-chopped nut may take the place of butter. Put it between the bread and cut as before.

Nut Graham Bread.

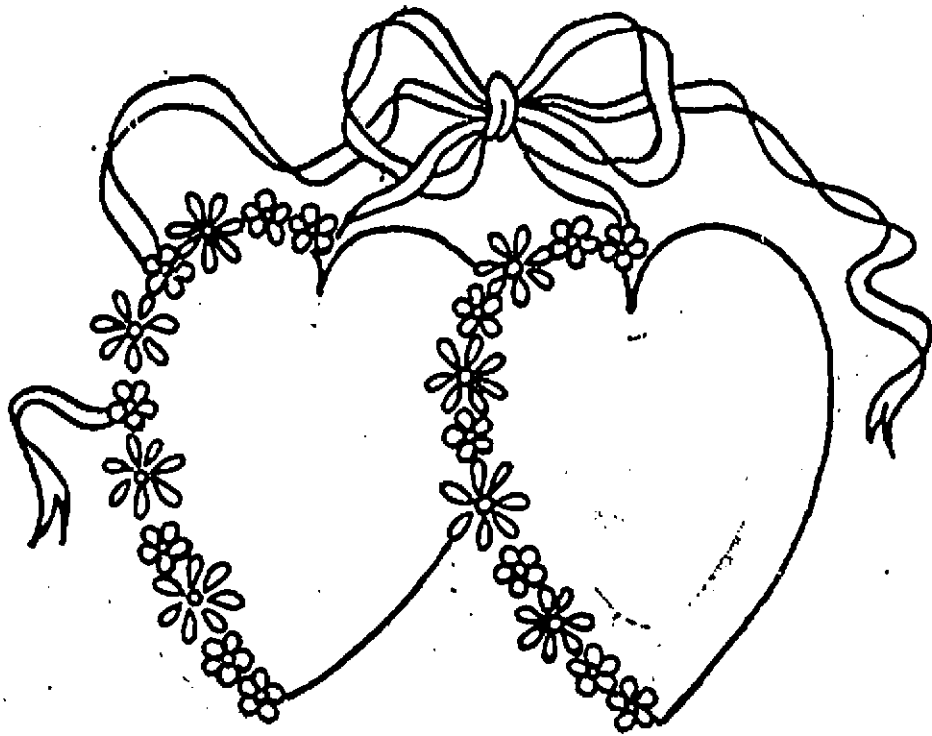

Three cups graham flour, one cup white flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-third cup molasses, one-half cup brown sugar, two eggs, two cups milk, one cup seeded raisins, one cup chopped nuts. Mix quickly, let raise for twenty minutes. Bake one hour.

Onion Sauce.

Boil the onions until tender. Mix with them half a pint of melted butter and a quarter pint of new milk, a little salt and pepper. Stir the sauce over the fire until it boils and serve as hot as possible. Time three-quarters of an hour.

Sauce for Chops.

Mix with vinegar some grated horseradish, tomatoes, Spanish peppers and cook for 15 minutes. Strain through a sieve and serve with boiled meats or chops.

CONSET COVER OR CLEMISE.

These two little hearts tied with a bow of ribbon will be a charming touch to a finger lace cover. They should be placed on each side of the corner cover, about two inches below the eyelets. The ribbon is padded and worked solid, and the flowers are done in the same way, with the exception of the centers, which are worked as eyelets. Mercerized cotton No. 30 will be suitable for this design. SARAH HALE HUNTER.

COAT FOR SMALL BOY.

This useful little coat might be made in serge or cloth; it is a double-breasted refter, and is worn with sailor collar of drill or the same material if preferred. Man-of-War hat of same material is worn. Material required: 1 yard 46 inches wide.

WIDE CHOICE IN HANDBAGS

All Designs and Materials Have the Sanction of Fashion This Season.

The handbag is now the inseparable companion of woman. A beauty is made of wealth with a gold top, the owner's initials in gold adorning the side that is generally presented to the gaze of the public. Oxidized silver is sometimes seen, but gold is more favored. No longer is a handle of modest length allowed. Long cords of leather or silk are supplied, occasionally several are plaited together, and finished where they join the bag with tassels.

The black suede and the velvet bag also have their devotees, while leather or worked in the Venetian manner is much in evidence.

In Paris, and on the continent generally, great liking is evidenced for the bag of fairly modest proportions with long cords that are slung across the shoulder—in the same way as one carries field glasses—perhaps because this method displays its beauty to the greatest advantage.

Pseudo Silk Hose.

The woman who loves silk stockings, but who cannot afford them, will find those of mercerized sea island cotton a very good substitute, as they have the look of the real silk. Their luster is excellent, they weave fine and even, and they, of course, wear out any number of silk stockings. They are made with all the latest improvements, ample sized tops and reinforced heels and toes. Not only black and white and tan are procurable in them, but many other colors.

FASHION HINTS FROM PARIS

Some Ideas of Styles Which Are to Be Popular in the Next Few Weeks.

From Paris comes the announcement that the new spring lines will show trimmings. Although up to the present time no extreme novelty in trimmings has developed, the new lines will at least have some braid and cotton trimming.

The new spring ribbons are expected to be especially beautiful and artistic, and there is certain evidence that they will be very popular and much worn. Tea gowns will be built entirely of lace and ribbons and gauzy evening cloaks will be poems composed of the same airy stuff. The softness and richness of the materials make them especially pleasing to the eye.

There is a simple evening cloak made of three yards of rose pink brocade, with one side of the square caught together in the middle to form a false hood effect. An edging of gold embroidery on net and two gilt tassels complete an evening cloak that is everywhere admitted and that can easily be made at home.

THE GOODLY COUNTRY

I've never seen a hill but looked at me with grave content. Good-naturedly and cheerfully, which ever way I went. Though it were black and bare and brown, it shouldered to the sky. And looked at me in quiet peace when I went slowly by. But any building, be it house, or temple place or mart, will face a man with chilling brows that set him far apart.

I've never seen a country road, that did not have the time. To loaf beside the forests where the blossomed vines would climb. To roam me softly, lazily, to rest with it awhile.

And see the comfort it could find in creeping hills on hills. But city streets—they glare at you and will not let you stay; They hustle you unceasingly and drive your dreams away.

I've never seen the sky that shields the countryside at night—An ebon velvet drapery looped with gems of light—That did not seem to bend to me all friendlywise, and kind. And pour a bath of comfort on my heart in its distress; But when the city has its night the glass beats in your eye And look whatever way you will you cannot see the sky.

I've never seen a country road, or brook, or hill, or arce. That did not have a kindly word to speak or sing to me. The green grass led me to one side, they never sneer nor frown. Nor view me strangelywise as do the streets and walls of town. And sometimes I think that this may be the hidden plan. To show us how much better God could make the world than man.

WILLIAM D. NEWITT.

It Perplexed Her. The pretty schoolgirl said: "What a spelling simplified. A person really don't know what to do. Now here's a note today. Spelled the new-fangled way. Which bears this tender message: 'I love you.'"

"I wonder can it be From young Professor Tree Who advocates the newer way to spell, Or is it from some child Or whom I know I've smiled? Oh, I wish there were some way to tell!"

To Yourself Be Kind. "I've a heart," the constipated said, "That ought but good feelings can fill. Why, by sympathy always I'm led— I sit up with myself when I'm ill."

Summer Dresses. In making dresses of silk or any light weight material, instead of French seaming them simply bustle the seams up in the usual way, then hem them on the foot hemmer. This makes a smaller, neater finish than French seaming, and you have the seam sewed up and finished with one stitching. When one has a number of dresses to make, especially skirts with many gores, this will be found to be an immense saving of time and energy, and will be much neater than French seaming or overcasting, as the seam will not draw.

The Proper Care of Oilcloth.

Oil cloth should not be swept with a straw broom or scrubbed with a stiff brush. Instead, sweep with a soft hair brush and wipe off with lukewarm water in which has been dissolved a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and rinse with clear, warm water. Where oil cloth is losing its shiny surface, wash as above, then dissolve a little ordinary glue in a pint of hot water. At night go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in glue water. Choose a dry day and by morning the glue will be hard; it will give a fine gloss and make the oil cloth year much longer.

If you are a good cook and we know you are, be sure to enter the Gazette contest. Read the details on the woman's page in this issue.

Snow White MATCH-LESS FLOUR

will make your cake as light as a feather, it will make your bread flaky and sweet, it makes pastry that is delicious. Matchless Flour is rightly named Matchless. It is made in Minnesota where the best wheat grows, and nothing but the selected wheat is used.

Because of the high grade of wheat, and because of the exceptional fineness of the flour, it is certain to give the very best results in baking of all kinds.

URIC ACID CAUSES FATIGUE.

When intense mental work is being done, there is an extraordinary waste of phosphorus and albumen especially. These can be supplied quickly without great draft on vitality for digestion and elimination, by eating fresh, fish, eggs and milk. These are quickly converted into force. But they are as quickly expended, and thus produce results equivalent to stimulation. This is especially true of meat. Meat contains the waste of the animal system from which it was taken, particularly uric acid; and it has been fully proved that the chief cause of fatigue is the accumulation in the tissues of waste, particularly uric acid. In all the recent great tests of endurance non-flesh eaters have excelled flesh eating competitors. To the physiologist familiar with the principles of nutrition involved, it is as clear that it should be so as that an engine should run better on clean coal than on coal and slate of the same weight.

Her Bad Five Minutes

There was a soft hump by the dresser and then Agatha's shoe tipped over on the floor.

Agatha, set up in bed with a frightened start, blinking into the dark, her breath coming in stifled gasps through her lips.

She recalled that just after she had blown out the candles and jumped into bed she had heard a scratching noise outside her window, but she had told herself that it was merely a branch of the big oak tree. She knew now with a sickening certainty that no oak tree branch ever grew so low as the first-story window of the bungalow bedroom. The burglar, no doubt, had even then been prowling around—and she had gone peacefully to sleep while he had been fumbling at the window.

Agatha was conscious of a sudden, fierce rage at people who were so idiotic as to build a house so close to the earth that all an intruder had to do to get in was to take out a screen and step easily over the window sill. One night as well hang one's watch and chain and pocket book on the corner lamp post. That reminded her that she was many miles from a lamp post and in the midst of a blackness so impenetrable that it was smothering.

Another faint noise from the direction of the dresser made Agatha's clutch on the bedspread tighten to that of a vise, while her blood curdled. Why didn't the wretch do something and get the agony over? Above all, why had she ever been induced to visit the Metcalfs in their foolish summer home in the woods?

What was it Hattie Metcalf had said just the day before—something about the relief of being so far from civilization that one was not bothered by its drawbacks? Burglars certainly were drawbacks and here was a perfectly good one engaged in his nefarious employment, peaceful words notwithstanding. How could he be expected to know that all the silver was plated and that Agatha had brought none of her jewelry with her? No doubt when he should discover it he would murder her.

Agatha had an instant's vision of black headlines in the city papers recounting the tragic fate of the beautiful young society girl, daughter of the well-known broker. She had a flashing wonder as to which of the others Chester Chandler would take to the assembly balls.

There was a rattle at the high-heeled shoe again, as though a foot had accidentally hit it. Agatha bent her head and stuffed a corner of the bedspread into her mouth to keep from screaming. If only she could go out of the door!

Then she recalled that even should she negotiate the space between the bed and the door she would then be lost in the wilderness of the huge living room, with furniture stuck at all sorts of impossible angles. In the darkness she was totally ignorant how to reach the room of the Metcalfs. And they had actually spoken with pride of the fact that the bungalow bedrooms were scattered at good distances from each other instead of being bunched.

"I wanted our guests to feel at home," Billy Metcalf had said with one of his grins. "They can indulge in family rows to beat the band after bidding us an affectionate good-night, and nobody else can hear 'em!"

The soft, odd noises were renewed at short intervals and Agatha wondered frenziedly how long she could hold out. Her fright had reached the stage where it paralyzed and numbed. She was not conscious of breathing and her ears drummed.

There was a rattle at the dresser, a faint, careful little rattle as of a hand moving skillfully among the trinkets upon it. Then of a sudden there was a thud and a wild rush!

Agatha knew nothing more except that something inside her head snapped and let her scream and scream in terrified hysteria, while she sat up among the pillows with her water running up and down her spine.

There was commotion throughout the bungalow. Everybody came running and stumbling with lights and questions. Agatha threw herself into Hattie Metcalf's arms.

"Burglars—on my dresser—and my shoe fell over!" she got out gaspingly. Billy Metcalf went over and picked up the shoe in question. As he did so there was a shower of small, hard, dark objects from it that rattled like bullets on the bare floor.

"Oh!" said Hattie Metcalf, relieved. "It was just a chipmunk, dear. This time of year they bring nuts and acorns into the house and hide them everywhere, storing up for winter. They particularly love shoes."

Agatha wondered just then how any woman ever could have fancied herself in love with Billy Metcalf and married him, for the way he howled with laughter was disgusting.

"Go away!" she said, as she collapsed in a flood of tears. "To think that I went through all that for a miserable little chipmunk!"

Just before daylight, when Agatha finally sank to slumber, she had a thought which sent her to sleep with a peaceful smile on her lips. She had remembered that she was still alive and that Chester Chandler would not be under the necessity of picking out another girl to take to the assembly balls.

When an electric light flashes the carbon, melted from one of the rods, is actually boiling in the little crater formed in the end of the rod. The superheated liquid, with blinding flashes of light, moves and jumps about very much as water does on boiling to boil.

Negatively Speaking.
No man can doubt and at the same time still believe—doubt indulged too often becomes doubt realized, and a skeptic. No man ever can when he has made up his mind he can't. No man can succeed, and think and talk and breathe an atmosphere of failure.

Qualifications.
Kneek—"I want some one to guard me against making mistakes, win my battles for me, and not take the credit." Boeker—"You want either a wife or a secretary to the president."

Not on This Side of the Water.
Cardiff, in Wales, is a city at least 2,000 years old, and its growth has been regarded by some people as phenomenal.

Money and Man.
When a man can make money just a little bit faster than he can manage to let go of it, and can hold onto the surplus so that another can never separate him from it even with a steel crowbar, then he is it—any old way you try to solve the problem of money and man.

The London Feather Market.
The London market for the importation of plumage for ladies' hats is the largest in the world and it is estimated that 5,000 persons are employed in the manufacturing and other work incidental to this trade. The value of the imports is said to be $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 a year.—Forest and Stream.

A New Way Out.
A New Yorker has a novel nuisance suppressor. The family in the next house were classically musical. They played the violin and the piano at all hours. He purchased a self-playing piano and an armful of rag-time rolls. He played only when they did. In two weeks they suited the house and moved away.

Masculine Shyness.
A party of well-dressed women of a certain maturity of age is encircled with an atmosphere of awe which bears witness to their consciousness of power and superiority. For a complete stranger to enter among them requires a bravery of which mere man, unless driven by absolute necessity, is often incapable.—Black and White, London.

Doing His Share.
"I suppose," said the helmsman's father, you have assured my daughter that you will grant her every wish. "No," replied Baron Pucash, "I will not misrepresent my financial resources. But I will do my best to be of service." "In what way?" "I will help her to stich."

Good Housewives.
Make This Cough Syrup.

To quickly cure the most stubborn cough and break up a cold in six to eight hours, there can be nothing better than the following simple remedy, for it has been tried in thousands of cases with wonderful success. Its popularity is increasing because of its cheapness and positive curative virtues.

Obtain of druggist a 2½ oz. package of Essence Menthol-Laxene, empty bottle, a pint of boiling water, a half pint of boiling water over a pint of granulated sugar. Stir, cool and fill up the bottle with syrup. Full directions for use are enclosed in the package. This home-made syrup effects a saving too, of from two to three dollars as compared with labeled cough medicines.

An Electric Rock.
There is a story going the rounds to the effect that a rock has been discovered in the vicinity of Monterey, Mex., which by simple rubbing emits electric sparks and produces a blue light of remarkable clarity. Samples of the stone have been sent to the geological institute at Washington, D. C., and also to Thomas A. Edison for analysis.

Silly Vandalism.
The government officers after the lottery magnets destroyed, among other things, a big scrap book of tickets as far back as the eighteenth century, when lotteries were lawfully conducted. That was little short of a crime. The National Museum is the place for such relics of rustic civilization.

Economical Living.
The French families of moderate means live principally upon stews and thick soups, buying cheap cuts of meats and common vegetables for these dishes. They are healthy and happy on such fare, as are a number of well-to-do families in this country, who have reduced eating to a fine point.

All of One Mold.
We should remember that man differs little from man, except that he turns out best who is trained in the sharpest school.—Thucydides.

Spring Medicine.
There is no other season when medicine is so much needed as in the spring. The blood is impure and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples, boils and other eruptions on the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength.

The best spring medicine, according to the experience and testimony of thousands annually, is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It purifies and enriches the blood, cures eruptions, builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs.

GENTLEMEN:—

Can a man stand on the sidewalk in front of a theatre and criticize the performance going on inside?

Likewise can a man gaze upon the outside of a clothing store and judge the quality of the merchandise it contains?

You'll agree with us when we say he can not.

Then why not look?

Looking is our bone of contention and it is the only way we can convince you that there is no clothing manufactured that can compare for fit, style, finish, or value with

Ford Clothes

Call today—the price will please you.
